The secret of our tomatoes

Our grower's careful selection, the appropriate cultivation and the particular choice of tomato varieties is our recipe for success

We only work together with experienced partners, who dedicate themselves to their job with great passion. For SanLucar our growers only select tomatoes with best taste and ideal texture. Trust plays an important role in this partnership - but control is not missed out either. Strict residues controls by independent, officially accredited institutes provide additional security.

Experience our passion for quality yourself! With our new tomato assortment we have the perfect tomato for each occasion with consistent quality all year round. For snacking, indulgence, salads or cooking - discover new ideas and refined recipes on our packaging.

SanLucar. The passion you can taste.
